DR. JORDAN'S OPERETTAS Please Large and Critical Providence Audience at Members' Night of Arion

Dr. Jules Jordan of Providence, a native of Windham, long director of the splendld Arion club, made a big success this week, of which the Providence Journal said: The announcement that the Arion slub would for its members' night produce three operettas by Dr. Jules Jor-dan, under his personal direction, was of sufficient interest to attract a large audience to the Talma theatre Tuesday evenfng, and the hall was filled when the curtain rose on the first operetta, A Princess of the Blood in which the scene is laid in an island in the tropics.

The second operetta, Star of the Sea. showed the interior of a fisherman's cottage on the coast of Brittany, and the scene of the third, called An Eventful Holiday, was laid in a gentleman's country place in the vicinity

The operettas were all pleasingly The A. M. E.
